Romulus deserve an accounting of airport permit revenues

I think that we the people of Romulus want to know what happened to money from the Metro Airport building permits. Where's that money at?

McNamara needs to give an accounting. Romulus needs to give an accounting too.

Caller urges us to take control of Westland speakers

Ivan, can't you get it through to the people like Debra Hessler-Davis and Bob Johnson to sit down and let the council move on? [Ms. Hessler-Davis and Mr. Johnson march to their own drummers — Ed.] Johnson and Davis are like Repeat and Repeat.

Ellenwood unaware that Cicirelli raised party issue first

I read a recent letter from former council woman Peggy Ellenwood expressing her feelings regarding accusations made by a local union leader towards her friend and mayoral candidate, Sandra Cicirelli.

Bill Johnson's comments had something to do with party affiliation, and Ms. Ellenwood stated that those things didn't matter in a local nonpartisan race. While I am a Democrat, I agree partisan politics should not come into play in a nonpartisan election. I vote for the qualifications of the person.

But before she throws stones, perhaps Ms. Ellenwood should have attended the recent Westland Democratic Club meeting the night they made their endorsements. It was her own candidate, Ms. Cicirelli that stood up and took the first jab at Mr. LeBlanc by making accusations about his party affiliations, quoting from an article in the Westland Eagle. As was mentioned at our meeting, that comment was retracted by the paper.

New Romulus Elementary opens

Elementary students in the northern area of Romulus are set to attend school in the new Romulus Elementary, beginning Tuesday, August 28.

The school is one of the major components of the 1999 $34 million bond program.

The "state-of-the-art" school will feature four large interconnected technology rooms. The Media Center will be joined with three computer aided instruction center rooms, each featuring 35 computers and an advanced file server.

The new building design includes two classroom wings—one for kindergarten through grade three and the other for grades four through six. A unique sliding partition will allow the combination of classrooms for large group presentations.

Principal Lynne Mossioan has had extensive preparation meetings with her new staff and looks forward to greeting over 350 new students and their parents.

The new Romulus Elementary School will be one of the finest in southeastern Michigan.

Fred Harbor (L) Fullback and Charles Searcy (R) Quarterback/tailback have been selected as preseason Parade All American High School Football players.

Two picked pre-season Parade All-Americans

Two Romulus High School football stars have been picked as Parade Magazine pre-season All-American football performers. Fullback Fred Harbor and quarterback/tailback Charles Searcy have both been accorded the national ranking as they enter their senior year.

Both are being actively recruited by a long list of top major college programs. Searcy has been contacted by representatives from Michigan, Northwestern, UCLA, and Colorado. Those recruiting Harbor are Missouri, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Memphis.

Romulus coach, Wade Cook inicated that both players are in high demand because of their outstanding football abilities and their 3.4 scholastic grade point averages.

Cook added, "Romulus has made a name for itself in the national college ranks with the signing of seven Eagle players to Eastern Michigan University last spring."

"People are taking notice of our program as evidenced by the top performance of EMU recruit John Wester at the recent east-west high school all-star game," added Cook.

Pick your favorites and win dinner

Win a $10 gift certificate to the Beehive Restaurant in Wayne or Westland by simply choosing your favorite business establishments by filling out the entry form in the BEST of WESTERN WAYNE promotional ad in this week's newspaper.

The first 100 readers who fill this form out and return it to the newspaper, will receive the gift certificate to one of the area's better breakfast, lunch and dinner restaurants.

All entries received will be used to determine Western Wayne's most popular businesses in 99 categories. Results will be published in a special supplement to be printed in early September.

For more information call Michigan Community Newspapers at 729-4000.

875 city homes identified for noise assistance

By ANN PARKER
MCN Special Writer

According to Len Singer, spokesperson for the Wayne County Noise Mitigation Program, Romulus had 875 homes that were identified as being eligible for the buyout or sound insulation program. To date, the county has acquired 172 homes for the airport project - all but one have been demolished.

Singer says these properties had to be demolished "...to make the property more suitable for an airport environment." One structure, along with two barns, was sold to a private entity and relocated. The buyout prices ranged between $25,000 - $300,000.

Homeowners could have opted to sign up for the purchase assurance program if they did not want to sell their home to the county. This feature was designed for homeowners that might want to sell at a later date to a private party and would feel more secure by locking in a fair market appraisal now.

If the homeowner sells the home for less than the fair market value 2 - 10 years from now the county would still have to make up the difference in price. Only two homeowners have opted to use the purchase assurance program. Singer says homeowners fare better if they have their homes sound insulated before placing them on the market, because the homes have become more valuable.

Not every home that lies within the catchment area of the airport project was eligible for the buyout; some were only eligible for sound insulation. Homes not eligible for the buyout lie within the outer-ring - those in the northern most section of Inkster and parts of Westland, and a small northeastern portion of Dearborn Heights.

Those homes lying within the second ring, bordered by Merri-man Road, Middlebelt Road, Ecorse Road and Inkster Road are eligible for the buyout or sound insulation. Those homes lying within the third ring, and having Wick Road as a northernmost border are eligible for the buyout or sound insulation.

According to Singer, a total of 313 homes have been sound insulated - some are completed, some are substantially complete and in need of "small cosmetic items," even though work began on these homes two years ago.

Singer says there are approximately 131 people awaiting a sound assessment. Most of these people have been waiting since 1998. He hopes to get these homeowners to a work-in-process stage in the very near future. Not every homeowner in the project area was interested in participating in either option - the buyout or the sound insulation program. Singer says that 259 homeowners neglected to respond when sent notification of the sound insulation program.

To get from the application to insulation, there is a five step process: first, a noise assessment is done on the home; second, architectural drawings are made; third, RFP's are sent out; fourth, contractors are awarded bid packages that contain 25-30 homes; and five, contractors begin work.

As a result of all the complaints, investigations and audit, Singer says the program is definitely going to be run differently. When he starts to notify the next community, Taylor, of the program, he will target 50 people at a time.

Contractors will be monitored closely and placed on a strict timeline to get homes completed. Contractors will only be allowed to draw down 75 percent and only after a substantial amount of the work has been completed, as opposed to the 90 percent they were allowed to draw before the investigation. Singer says contractors will be held to a tighter work schedule - homes will have to be completed timely - no more 2 - 3 year projects.

DNA links Romulus murder with another

DNA evidence secured when U of M-Flint Professor Margaret Eby was murdered in her residence in Flint in 1986, has been linked to the 1990 homicide of a Northwest flight attendant in Romulus.

The link was made after DNA was sent to the Michigan State Police crime lab by the Flint Violent Crimes Task Force. The task force has been investigating the 15-year-old unsolved murder.

The 55-year-old Eby was found by students who had come to her home to drive her to a concert. Her throat had been slashed. There was no signs of forced entry.

The Northwest flight attendant, Nancy Ludwig was also found with her throat slashed. She was found bound and raped in a third-floor room at the Airport Hilton Inn in Romulus on February 17,

At the time, the murder received nationwide attention but the killer was never found. Now, there is an $80,000 award for information leading to the arrest and conviction of Ludwig's killer.

The Romulus Police Department is now working in conjunction with the task force to determine if other evidence may link the two crimes. Investigators have established a tipline number for information-call 1-877-634-8477.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

Wheelfest rolls into town tonight

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Wheelfest rolls into Wayne this weekend.

Although classic cars is the main attraction, it isn't the only attraction. There is much more to do.

Staged four consecutive days beginning Thursday, Aug. 23 at Goudy Park and ending on Sunday, Aug. 26, the four days will be filled with interesting features as well as many contests and, of course, good food.

Incidentally, Goudy Park is located at 3355 S. Wayne Road, behind the Wayne City Hall.

On the long list of star-entertainment scheduled to perform are Cathy Grachal, in her unique "Salute to Patsy Cline", who will be at center stage at 7:30 p.m. on Friday (Aug. 24); Mustang Sally's country music, at 9:30 p.m. on Aug. 24.

There is a replay of classic rock and roll groups at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday (Aug. 25), while the Starship, featuring Mickey Thomas, will land at 9:30 p.m. Saturday (Aug. 25).

Other musical entertainers who will perform during the summer classic are the Jake and Elwood Blues Review with "Tremors" featuring "The Earthquake Horns" at 8:30 p.m. on Sunday.

Also new this year is the "Virtual NASCAR Racing in the only full-size virtual NASCAR simulator in the world. Viewers may see the action beginning at 6 to 11 p.m. on Friday, and also 1 to 11 p.m. on Saturday as well as 2 to 10 p.m. on Sunday.

In addition to these main events, Wheelfest-2001 officials say look for traditionally delicious food associated with the Wheelfest classic. There also will be the usual contests, rides, a car show, putt-putt golf, Mainstreet Entertainment, a Soap Box Derby, and much more.

For more information on the upcoming programs and features, please call 734-721-7400.

Susie celebrates her 106th birthday

Is she the oldest resident in Wayne?

Susie Jones Johnson

On August 14, Susie Jones Johnson reached a milestone that only a handful of Americans ever accomplish. She turned 106 years young.

And she celebrated it with her loved ones and friends.

Susie has undoubtedly earned the distinction of being one of the oldest, if not the oldest resident of the City of Wayne.

"We verified her date of birth through a marriage record that was recorded in her family Bible and compared the vital statistics with the county books in Columbus, Mississippi," says a spokesperson at the Transitional Health Care Services in Wayne where Susie has taken up residency. "The Bible and the county records, we believe, accurately re-

"Always keep a happy thought in your heart, if you're a negative person, your shoulders become heavy and burdened, you soon go under."

fect Mrs. Johnson's date of birth.

"Moreover, we believe that such a landmark day should not be passed over without some sort of recognition."

Susie is presently under the watchful and caring eyes of the care home and her daughter, Bessie McGowan.

Susie Jones Johnson is the mother of nine children, 24 grand children, 42 great grandchildren, and eight great, great grandchildren.

During her early years Susie displayed musical talent in the form of piano playing and singing in the church choir; however, she was not able to truly cultivate those talents because she was too busy caring for her and her sister's children.

The last position she held was in her church, serving on the Usher Board.

Her advice for a long and happy life?

"Always keep a happy thought in your heart," she says. "If you're a negative person, your shoulders become heavy and burdened, you soon go under."

Mature driver workshop scheduled

Do senior drivers cause most of the accidents on the city's or state's highways?

How good are drivers' reflexes who are past the age of 55?

Does darkness or nightfall impair a senior's driving vision?

Answers to the above - and more - questions will be answered when the City of Wayne, Senior Services Department hosts its TIA Mature Driver Workshops.

The workshops will be conducted beginning at 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m., Oct. 15, 16 and 17. The first of two workshops will each consist of four-hour sessions held on consecutive days. The third day, which is optional, is a half-hour session.

Participants will receive an on-the-road evaluation of their driving ability with an instructor in the student's own vehicle.

Officials at the Senior Activity Center say that those who wish to participate must register on or before Oct. 5. There is limited registration and spots will be filled on a first come, first serve basis. Fourteen to 25 students will be accepted.

There is a $10 registration fee. Senior Services officials also point out that the evaluation results are confidential, and the instructor will indicate possible problem areas in driving behavior and offer suggestions for improvement.

Prospective participants may register at the City of Wayne, Senior Activity Center, 35000 Sims, at Wayne Road.

Telephone 734-721-7460 for further information.

Library goes rustic

The Wayne Public Library will go rustic as it will present "Barns/Farm Structures Near and Aboard" to lead off the fall season.

The informative program will be presented at 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 13, at the Wayne Public Library. The library is located at 3737 S. Wayne Road.

Keith Bruder will bring his colorful presentation to local residents. He has assembled a wealth of experience about American and European farms.

Because of its contents on history, Bruder's program is also co-sponsored by the Wayne Historical Society.

Library officials urge residents to "bring a friend to this free event."

For further information, please call the Adult Reference desk at 734-721-7832.

NEWS FROM THE CITY OF INKSTER

Luau guests recently helped raise funds for the Khamalaw White Scholarship Fund and also enjoyed an exciting evening of entertainment. The Mayor Hilliard Hampton, Jr., Luau attracted hundreds to the occasion including Alberta Whatley (standing from left), Wilhmenia Harrington and Pearl Childs; seated are Denise Ceaux, Patricia Ceaux and Emma Wesley.

Luau's a huge success

By THEOLA JONES
MCN Special Writer

On the golf course and at the dance hall, Mayor Hilliard L. Hampton, Jr. recently carded a double victory.

Hampton's annual golf outing was scored a huge success as golfers helped raise monies for the Khamalaw White Scholarship Fund. The mayor's inaugural Summer Luau did likewise.

Both events were successful ventures: the golf outing was sold out; golfers traveled from all points to participate in the fundraiser.

After a day of golfing pleasure, the golfers then were served dinner at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Complex.

In the meantime, the Summer Luau put the finishing touches to the planned events. Guests arrived in colorful authentic Hawaiian attire. They also enjoyed tasty Hawaiian treats and prizes were awarded by lucky guests who enjoyed the music of an all female jazz band called "Straight Ahead". They were at their best.

The participation of the golfers, and the attendance of the guests at the Luau helped the Khamalaw White Scholarship Committee and the Optimist Club raise monies to help high school seniors to go on and receive a college education.

The Inkster Goodfellows also were the recipients of the participants' generosity. The local organization is scheduled to receive a share of the funds raised during the golf outing and the luau festivities.

Inkster to host cancer detection center services

In its ongoing efforts to create a bright future for tomorrow's children by strengthening today's families, Starfish Family Services is hosting the Karmanos Mobile Breast Center at its administration building in Inkster.

The services will be provided from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday (Aug. 24).

The Mobile Detection Center reduces barriers that prevent most women from seeking breast-cancer screening, organizers say. These barriers include fear, lack of access and convenience and cost.

Special attention is placed on the elderly, minority individuals with low incomes, and organizations with predominately female work forces.

Women, ages 40 and older, should have a mammography screening every year.

Services provided on the mobile screening van include a two-view screening mammography which is read by a board-certified radiologist. Results are mailed to both the patient and her physician.

Women covered by an HMO or other managed cared health plans should seek referral for this service from their primary care physicians or providers.

Third party insurance plans including Medicare and Medicaid are accepted, although the office charge for the breast examination may not be covered.

Interested women should call Karmanos to make their appointment. That number is 800-KAR-MANOS (527-6266) and Starfish Family Services for directions at 734-728-3400.

Clothing give-away scheduled

Members of the Middlebelt Baptist Church congregation are inviting families and individuals in need of clothes to attend their annual "Clothes Giveaway Day".

Clothing for all ages - children, women and men - will be offered to those in need from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the church, located at 943 Middlebelt Road.

"We want to make sure that those in need receive the proper clothes, since fall and winter are just around the corner," said Alice Brandon, coordinator of the church's Clothes Closet Ministry.

Those who need more information about the program are urged to contact Brandon or Pastor Roscoe C. Belton. They may be reached at 734-728-3838.

In the meantime the Women of Westland and Starfish Family Services have teamed up to sponsor a "Ready, Set, Dress" workshop.

"The overwhelming success of our local clothing drive has grown into a community-wide effort to provide employment preparedness education, resource information and opportunities, and business clothing to women entering the work force or seeking to upgrade their current jobs," according to an organization spokesperson.

The first-time-by-invitation-only event is scheduled for Aug. 24 and will draw together more than 40 businesses and non-profit organizations for a common purpose - preparing women to successfully enter the job market.

More than 350 invitations have been distributed to "handpicked" customers through 18 Wayne County service providers. The program will be held at the Starfish Family Services headquarters in Inkster, 30000 Hively Road.

Story tellers apply their crafts at library

Story-tellers will apply their craft at the Leanna Hicks Library's fall Story & Craft Program. The five-week series will run Sept. 13 through Oct. 11.

Library officials say that the program will be conducted between 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays for five consecutive weeks. A parent or care-giver must remain in the library during the entire hour with their child.

Registration will be accepted beginning Tuesday, Sept. 4 either in person or by phone. Parents are urged to sign up ahead of time so that library officials will have an idea on how many children will be attending the program.

To register or for further information, contact the library by dialing 313-563-2822.

Aug. 31 is last day to pay taxes

For those homeowners who have tax obligations and have procrastinated by not paying their bill, beware, the last day to pay 2001 city-school taxes is creeping up slowly from behind.

City officials caution taxpayers that they have until Aug. 31 to pay their city and school taxes, without penalty.

Taxes may be paid at the city hall until the last day of August. However, after Aug. 31, taxpayers will have to go to the Wayne County Building to submit their payments, and the late-payment will cost the taxpayer a fine.

If you have any questions about your tax bill, please contact the Inkster Treasurer's Office by dialing 313-563-4268. The Treasurer's Office is located in the Municipal Complex on Inkster Road, just north of Michigan Ave.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES TO BE HELD AT 7:00 P.M. TUESDAY, AUGUST 28, 2001 IN THE BOARD ROOM TOWNSHIP HALL, 46425 TYLER ROAD

FOR THE PURPOSE OF INTERVIEWING THREE CANDIDATES FOR THE POSITION OF DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC SAFETY. IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT, REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS CAN BE MADE WITH ADVANCE NOTICE.

$58 million spent and nothing to show for it

$57.9 million has been spent on Wayne County's "noise abatement program" with very little to show for the spent money. If there ever was a travesty of justice—this program takes the gavel.

Pick up last week's ROMULUS ROMAN, and you will find an investigative piece by MCN's Ann Parker that outlines dozens of complaints from Romulus homeowners who have had work done. Most of the complaints point to work started year's ago that has never been finished.

What I find particularly appalling is that the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), because of all the complaints of mismanagement and fraud, has had to step in and put a temporary halt to the program.

Their findings are incredible. Out of 3,430 homes designated for soundproofing, only 261 homes have been insulated against noise since the program started nine years ago. Another 312 homes have been partially soundproofed.

But get this — the average time spent soundproofing a home is 798 days. That's over two years or nearly twice as long as it would take to build a mansion. Even more ridiculous is that the average cost to soundproof a home has been $40,000. There must be gold in the doors and windows that are being installed. What possibly could cost $40,000?

Again, this is over a nine-year span. Many homes were started nine years ago and never finished. But some where along the way the County has managed to spend not one-million, not ten million, but fifty-eight million dollars on noise mitigation. Where has all the money gone?

Certainly not in the homes of Romulus residents who live near the airport. A program that was started to principally provide relief for homeowners and schools close to the airport appears to have been re-routed to big business and greedy contractors.

But enough about the problems. This program needs solutions — and fast. Wayne County set up a special task force early this year and County Commissioner John Sullivan who is vice-chair of the committee, thinks too many entities are involved in operating the program.

He would like to see one person or firm in charge of the program. Kind of like "the buck stops here" scenario, I believe. I see the same problem. Now that the sh—has hit the fan, no one wants to admit that they are responsible for frittering away 58 million. And so far, no one has been admonished, partially because no one knows who to blame. One firm, one person, and we all know who to blame.

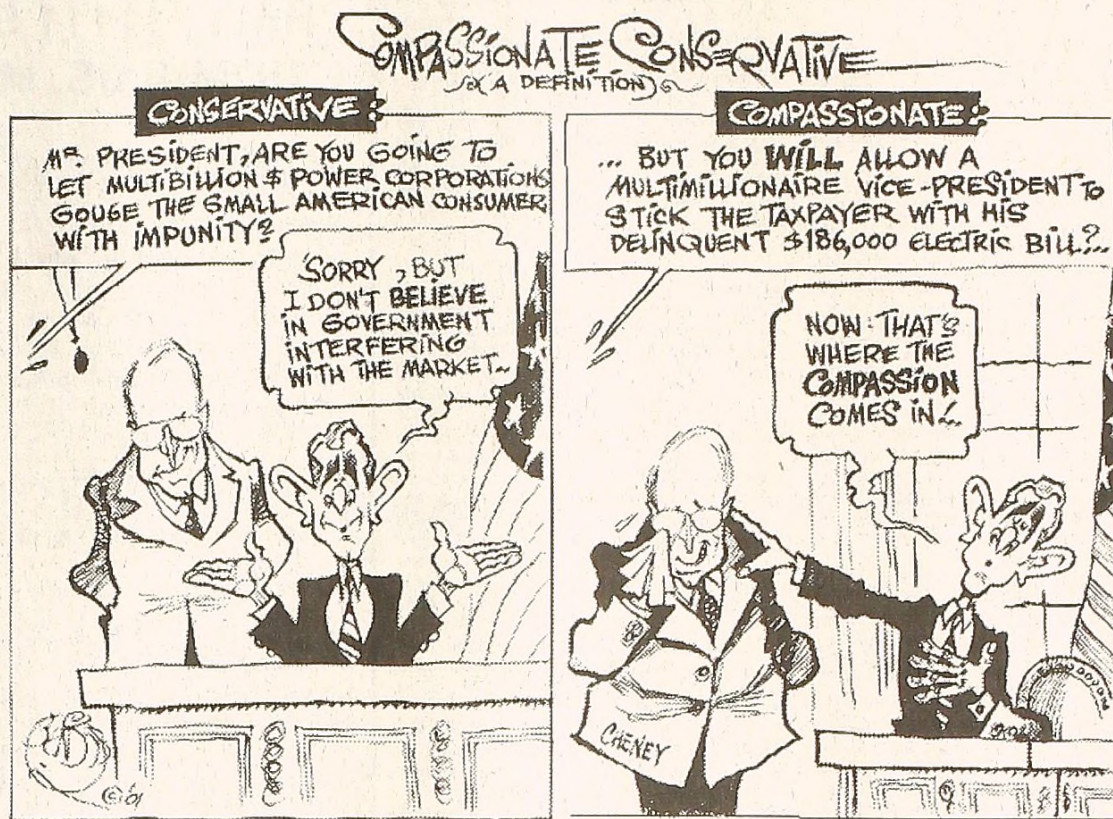

Additionally the task force is recommending a national firm with a great reputation for managing noise mitigation programs, should be hired. Again, at this point, this makes all the sense in the world. What are we waiting for?

But most importantly, the County needs to step in and take care of the people who have work that is not complete, or work that has been performed poorly. I betcha for 1/50th of the cost already blown, these homes could be fixed right. We sometimes fail to remember it is the homeowners that this money was targeted for. Let's fix what we have messed up before

It's crunch time in mayor campaign

"I want your editor to endorse LeBlanc for mayor. The Observer endorsed him and you should also endorse him. He's the best candidate and will straighten out this city. God knows it needs to be straightened." — Sound Off caller.

Another newspaper endorsement for Councilman Richard LeBlanc at this time would ruin the political game. I hate blowouts. I've never respected football or basketball coaches who run up the score against a beaten foe.

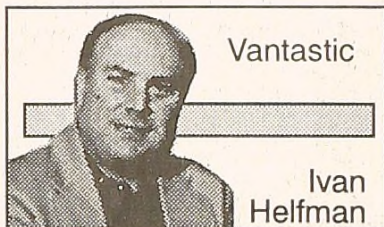

When the game is lopsided, the honorable thing to do is bring in the reserves, the rookies, and the while guys. Not pile on the paties. If we endorsed LeBlanc now, that would give him a sweep of the local newspaper endorsements without giving his opponents, Council President Sandra Cicilli and Police Chief Emery Price, a fair chance to get back in the game.

It's crunch time. With three weeks to go, both of LeBlanc's opponents must get back into the game. Both have enough time to challenge LeBlanc's issues and visions for the city of Westland.

LeBlanc stands relatively high with the press because he has campaigned on issues. Your average reporter is a policy wonk, a sucker for issues.

In this campaign, only LeBlanc has offered specific proposals. For a gusty example, LeBlanc's literature says: "The policy of assigning city-owned vehicles to employees will be reviewed and modified. LeBlanc will reduce the number of drive-home cars and will also restrict the practice of city-paid fueling of vehicles. Our vehicles (except the undercover police cars) will be visibly marked as Westland vehicles. This can reduce costs while increasing accountability."

Price, who has run a classy campaign, has only offered general issues. For example, his Web site says, "Move the city forward in a positive direction: Creating jobs locally by encouraging companies to establish their business base in our city, thereby expanding economic growth, in addition to filling vacant buildings."

Vantastic

Cicirelli hasn't even presented general issues, though she said she would send me a list of issues with specifics.

During this time, I'm eager to see Cicirelli's and Price roar back with substantive issues. Let them offer alternatives to LeBlanc's issues, giving people a choice between three principled candidates.

In an ideal campaign, each candidate would compete to put forth the best ideas. Where there are disagreements, each would listen to the criticism.

Perhaps Price could challenge LeBlanc's proposal to reduce the number of police department employees' drive-home cars and restricting many city employees' free gasoline. This would give voters a clear choice and allow taxpayers to learn why Westland police employees get city cars for personal use and their Canton counterparts don't.

I certainly would like to learn how the cars are assigned and understand why the assignment of cars in many cases is not a contract issue. A debate would clarify this.

Having committed to no issues, Cicirelli has a zillion options. She could hammer home her solutions to trying to get Westland out of the ruinous incinerator contract or as a recent champion of ethics in government, she could propose ways to neutralize some of the city's deals with former city directors and deputy directors.

This would please me because it's wrong for the only issues out there to be LeBlanc's. This cuts out many ideas and proposals that would benefit Westland, such as hiring a city planner experienced in urban planning to rewrite the city's scary zoning ordinances that favor sprawl and franchises over neighborhoods and friendly local businesses.

While I will leave this to Chief Price who says that he is a friend of business, I would like to bring up my issue of the month: defanging the city's overdue library book ordinance.

At a time when Canada and many European nations have decriminalized smoking marijuana, Westland has criminalized reading by passing a law to fine or jail people possessing overdue library books.

This is outrageous for a number of reasons. First of all, the loan of a book is a contractual voluntary activity. Unless fraud or deception is involved, violation of a civil contract should be a civil offense, not a criminal one. If I default on a $100,000 mortgage, I expect the bank to sue me, not put me in debtors prison. The same should apply to a default on a $25 book.

Second, there are better things and less costly things for the police and courts to do than harass a reader who took more than the three-week loan period to read the 1,000-page Gone with the Wind. A collection agency could handle unpaid loans, just like a collection agency handles unpaid credit card accounts or National Public Radio pledge deadbeats.

Third, Westland students should not be penalized for reading or studying. Given the state of education in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools District, reading should be encouraged. With the district spending $110 million a year and, according to Standard and Poor's recent evaluation, generating "well below-average student results with comparatively high spending," student readers need all the encouragement they can get.

The Westland Public Library, with its great collection of books and study aids, does a great job in filling the void created by the school district. I suspect that the library has turned many students into readers and helped many win university scholarships.

By my guesstimate, the $101,000 in lost library books and study aids last year probably yielded $500,000 in scholarships and needed knowledge for guerrilla readers. So why doesn't a candidate propose penalizing the schools, not the readers, for the overdue books?

That's my issue. What are yours, Mr. Price and Ms. Cicirelli?

Tax rebate scam explained

Millions of Americans, from July through September, will be receiving checks from Uncle Sam. Millions more will not.

The Congress, in what it considered a masterful public relations coup, passed a reduction in the lowest income tax rate from 15% to 10% effective in the middle of this year. This created a huge problem for tax returns to be filed by April 15th of 2002 for 2001 income. It would have been too complicated to split the year's income into two parts to apply two different tax rates on the 2001 return.

Besides, the politicians wanted to get some money back to the voters before they had to file their tax returns next year. They claimed it would help rejuvenate the economy (assuming we would spend it all rather than paying off bills).

So the Congress and IRS came up with a "formula" to give us an "advance" payment of the effect of the lower minimum rate before we file in 2002. The formula assumed that each taxpayer would make exactly the same amount of taxable income in 2001 as he or she did in the year 2000.

Medium Rare

They then applied the difference between the old and new rates (5%) to half of our 2000 income. But that's not the amount of the advance payment. They put a cap on the amounts, $300 for a single taxpayer and $600 for couples filing jointly. Does that cap make a difference? You bet it does!

For taxpayers with taxable income at the exact amount before the higher (year 2000) rate of 28% kicks in, the calculated difference would be, for single taxpayers, $656 (more than twice the amount allowed by the $300 cap). For married couples (filing jointly) the calculated amount would have been $484 dollars more than the $600 cap.

The level at which the 28% rate kicks in (in 2000) was $26,250 for singles and $43,850 for married couples. Notice that the level for married couples is not twice the amount for singles. That's the so-called "marriage penalty" that Congress says it will fix later.

Will taxpayers make up that difference when they file their 2001 return next year? Not on your life! To make sure the only relief the taxpayers get is the advance payment (it is not a rebate or refund as most of the media call it) the old 15 percent rate will be included in the tax tables to apply to all of the 2001 taxable income.

Taxpayers will not get the full effect of the tax rate reduction until the withholding rates are adjusted for income earned in 2002. But don't get too used to that. The lower tax rate is not permanent. It expires before the year 2010. Of course Congress will make many changes between now and then.

Don't forget to write a letter of appreciation to your Senators and Representatives and don't pay off any bills, spend it work. Just like the city if Price gets elected.

And the others may do no better. Hell, they cannot even staff the fire department correctly, so why should they care that our money is wasted on police that are rude, show no respect, and are [this caller opines], at home most of their shift?

The city council is a joke and the person running it wants to be mayor? She may do no better than Price and will probably not care if the police don't work and stay at home. I don't think anyone that is running the city cares where the taxes go as long as they get paid. No one running cares about the people that pay them.

We need a whole new council, one that cares about the citizens and not themselves. Put the fireman where they are needed you morons. Yes, that includes the present mayor. After all he is letting Price and the council get away with whatever they want, and he will not staff the fire departments as needed. Why are we even paying this guy?

Don't discredit Westland's absentee voters, they're smart

I'm not sure if I am understanding what I just read in your paper about the Westland clerk mailing out the ballots for the primary election.

My mother votes absentee and I believe she usually gets her ballots around the same time every election. I don't think the recent mailing was any different.

Sometimes there are political flyers that come before she gets her ballot and sometimes afterwards. She rarely votes the day she gets the ballot, but takes time to

MCN should endorse Richard LeBlanc for Westland mayor

I want your editor to endorse LeBlanc for mayor. The Observer endorsed him and you should also endorse him. He's the best candidate and will straighten out this city. God knows it needs to be straightened.

As a personal friend of Mrs. Smith, she can call her Dorothy

For your information, Debbie Hessler-Davis is a personal friend of Mrs. Smith and should feel very comfortable addressing her by her first name.

Come on, stop being so negative about the messenger and start listening to her message. You go Deb.

Correction: Westland primary election will be Tuesday, Sept. 11

Dear Mike, The Westland primary election will be Tuesday, Sept. 11, (not Sept. 9). The general election will be Tuesday, Nov. 6. Thank you.

New Westland City Council needed for police, firefighters

How can the police crack down on car stereos past 10 p.m. when [this caller opines], they are at home doing nothing and getting paid instead of protecting the people that pay them.

Why should they be? They are getting paid for it and Price [this caller opines] does not care.

As for the Price signs being stolen, who cares? It just shows that our police department doesn't

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Overdue library book prosecution harms defendants

To the editor:

I would like to make you aware of a situation regarding Westland City Ordinance 62-132, which deals with theft from the library.

I am sure this ordinance was passed with the best of intentions; however, I would like you to be aware of how it is actually being applied in the court system and the lack of procedures and guidelines that the Westland Library has in place to support this ordinance's enforcement.

Please keep in mind that I have been a Westland resident for the past six years. I am a Senior Catastrophic Claims Adjuster for an auto insurance company. In my employment, I deal with fraud on a daily basis and do not take the issue of fraud or theft lightly, regardless of the amount in question.

Additionally, I deal with attorneys and the court system on a daily basis, although in the civil arena. I have been accused of theft from the library related to a book that was apparently checked out under my library card on April 16, 2001, titled the Iroquois Indians. I assure you that I did not check out this book and would have no use or interest in a book on this subject in a very, very long time, given the fact that I am 30 years old, not attending school, and have no children.

According to Mr. Burchill, I began receiving notices regarding the return of this book in late May and early June of 2000. I did not receive these notices because I was at my residence very little from May 2000 until July 4, 2000, when my ex-girlfriend finally moved out. The reason being, I had asked my girlfriend to move out with her three children in May of 2000 because we were not getting along. This relationship was the proverbial rebound, after my divorce in June 1999.

I came to find out there was a large amount of mail that came to my residence that I did not receive related to other issues and debts that my ex-girlfriend had incurred in my name and without my permission or knowledge. My first knowledge of this issue was when I received a collection letter from Unique Management Services.

Unfortunately, with much embarrassment, on September 20, 2000, I retained an attorney to declare Chapter 7 Bankruptcy. I forwarded this notice to my attorney. I also received a notice from the Westland Police on February 23, 2001, which I forwarded to my attorney, who assured me this would be taken care of during the Bankruptcy Proceedings.

At no time did I contact the library or police department directly because I was represented by an attorney in this matter. In my line of work, with the civil courts, if a person is represented by an attorney I can not contact them directly. I assumed this was the case in this matter also.

On March 12, 2001, a "Notice of Meeting of Creditors" was sent to the Westland library. In this notice it clearly states that, "Deadline to file complaint objecting to discharge or to determine dischargeability of certain debts" must be filed by June 18, 2001.

The Meeting of The Creditors took place on April 14, 2001. No representative from the library was present and to this date my attorney is not aware of any objections being filed related to the library debt. I think a logical person would assume that the matter was resolved, although not in the best of ways.

In the beginning of June 2001, to my dismay, I received a notice that I was to be arraigned for theft of a library book on June 19, 2001. I spoke to Mr. McConnell, Westland prosecutor, directly by phone the week of June 11, 2001, by the advice of my attorney. I briefly explained the situation and advised him that I was more than willing to resolve this matter by payment of the replacement value of the book and any fines or administrative costs associated with this matter, which totaled $51.15.

Mr. McConnell advised me that I would need to appear at the arraignment, and at that time a representative of the library would be present for me to speak to. On June 21, 2001, I received an order of discharge regarding the debts included in my Bankruptcy. I appeared at arraignment, where by paperwork only, I plead not guilty to the charges. I asked to speak to a representative from the library at that time; however, I was advised that Mr. Burchill was not present.

On July 13, 2001, I wrote Mr. Burchill a letter explaining the situation and my willingness to pay the replacement cost of the book and any fines associated with it. Mr. Burchill's response was that I ignored this issue and now the matter is in the hands of the 18th District Court.

On July 22, 2001, I wrote to Mr. McConnell again, detailing the circumstances of this case and my willingness to pay all costs associated with this matter. To date I have not received a response from Mr. McConnell.

On August 15, 2001, I attended a Pretrial conference, where I met with Mr. Plakas and Mr. Burchill, again pointing out the circumstances surrounding this situation, as well as all documentation to support. I was appalled by not only Mr. Plakas's attitude, but also Mr. Burchill's.

Please keep in mind I deal with attorneys daily and know that sometimes their egos are larger than the offices they sit in. Mr. Plakas as well as Mr. Burchill went above and beyond that and were nothing short of rude.

They did not want to hear anything I had to say, cutting me off in mid sentence, taking phone calls while I was speaking to them and responding to me that I had ignored this issue and had a chance to resolve it previously.

Once they understood that their bully tactics were not going to work, they stated a trial date must be set. I now have a court-appointed attorney representing me in this case.

I thought possibly that Mr. Burchill's and Mr. Plakas' attitude may have been rooted in their own personal beliefs on Bankruptcy. Mr. Plakas, during my pretrial conference, stated my only defense was bankruptcy, which is not the case, merely a fact to explain how this matter came to this point, and that I didn't ignore their letters.

Previously, I, myself, could not understand why anyone should be able to declare bankruptcy just because they are irresponsible with their money; however, I have learned the hard way that you don't always know the circumstances of a person's life, and that irresponsibility is not the only cause.

After sitting in the courtroom for three hours watching other cases, that may not be an excuse for Mr. Plakas's and Mr. Burchill's attitudes. Regardless of the particulars of this case, I was amazed by what I received from the library as far as documentation that they keep regarding their patrons' library cards, as well as the lack of procedures they have in place to protect their card members.

I have, in writing, from Mr. Burchill that 1. The application for Borrowers Card, which requires the applicant's signature indicating they agree to the terms of the card, is shredded after the basic information is input into their computers. 2. No record is kept regarding past history of materials checked out under a library card other than if fines are currently due. 3. No documentation is kept as to where an item was checked out at, either at the remote scanner or at the main desk with the assistance of a library employee.

Of course, according to Mr. Burchill, the procedure is: if a patron presents a valid library card or picture identification, they may check out materials and its the patrons ultimate responsibility to report a lost or stolen card.

Unfortunately, I don't think most people use their library card on a daily, weekly, monthly or, in my case yearly basis, to notice if a jilted girlfriend has removed it from your wallet or a drawer without your permission.

A glaring example that the minimal procedures that are in place are not always followed is documented in the paperwork Mr. Burchill provided to me, upon my request. The card in question was originally issued to me on March 27, 1997. Per Mr. Burchill, as well as the informational pamphlet titled, "Library Services," after three years, a library card expires and identification must be provided to renew the card.

In 1997, I resided on Hiveley Street, however the library had my current Redman address. Given the fact that this library card should have expired on March 26, 2000, the library has my current address and the book in question was checked out on April 16, 2000, this card must have been renewed.

However, I did not renew the card and, in fact, I did not change the address on my driver's license until June 16, 2000. Setting aside the attitudes of Mr. Plakas Jr. and Mr. Burchill, I am amazed at the time and money spent in these matters.

At my pretrial conference I saw two other cases regarding library books set for trial. Both requested jury trials and both requested court appointed attorneys like myself. I could not believe when a third person, a young woman, came before Judge McKnight, who had already returned the books and paid the fines, was sentenced to probation and an additional $100 fine. When the woman expressed that she was a full time student and only worked 12 hours a week, she was instructed pay the $100.00 or do five days on the work program. Is this justice? Was this the intention of the ordinance?

Would not the money spent on prosecuting people as criminals be better used to update the library computer system to capture and keep track of more relevant information, implementing library policies to protect the patrons from theft and fraud, such as doing away with the remote/self serve check out desk and being a little more proactive, like movie rental stores, in securing information on whose using a card or maybe using a collection company attorney to pursue these matters so that reimbursement of replacement costs and fines can be collected much more effectively.

I question whether or not the people that this ordinance was meant to pursue, people truly guilty of theft, could be found guilty under this ordinance, given the libraries lack of documentation, and keeping in mind the burden of unreasonable doubt. Also, could this not give rise to civil lawsuits against the library for malicious prosecution?

Mr. Burchill would have plenty of time to deal with these issues if he was not in court daily regarding cases such as mine. Please keep in mind I am charged with a criminal misdemeanor and, obviously, in the insurance industry, criminal background checks are done. I issue an average of $200,000 in checks for personal injury protection benefits to insureds and medical providers, daily. Even a charge of theft can be detrimental to a career.

Do you think that an employer will look much beyond the charge itself to find out the circumstances of the matter before moving on to the next applicant for a job or promotion. Just as an aside, I overheard an unnamed court appointed attorney expressing his displeasure regarding these issues stating, "if they want to bottleneck the courts with this type of case then that's what we have to do."

I would assume he is not the only officer of the court with this opinion, and I doubt the citizens of Westland are aware of what is taking place, yet.

Final year may be Wayne's best in Mega football

Carter says Zebras can win title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Wayne Memorial's final season in the Mega Conference may be its best.

"We're shooting for the title," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter. "We have all the kids to get the job done."

Carter, who is in his 32nd year in coaching, will open the 2001 football campaign Friday night at Romulus against a team that also returns most of its players who went 9-0 in the regular season a year ago under first-year coach Wade Cook.

Romulus has Charles Searcy back, and with Searcy the Eagles have one of the premier running backs in the state.

"I have watched them (Romulus) scrimmage and they have quickness and talent. They will have an excellent team."

Wayne will open at Romulus Friday night at 7 and will close against traditional rival, Westland John Glenn.

In between, the Zebras are looking at such opponents as Edsel Ford, Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Lincoln Park, Woodhaven, Taylor Truman and a crossover with Garden City.

If you have spotted that these are not the traditional Red Division opponents that Wayne usually plays, it's because Wayne has been moved to the White Division. It also is the final year for the Zebras in the Mega. They will join John Glenn, Plymouth-Salem, Plymouth-Canton in the Western Lakes Conference in 2002.

Wayne has 22 seniors returning off of a squad that posted a 1-8 record a year ago. But they will go into Friday night's game with Romulus without their regular quarterback Zack Lappan, who suffered a hand injury in a scrimmage. Also, blue chip, Division 1 caliber running back, Clifton Edwards, is out for the first couple of games. Edwards sustained an injury during a football camp and will not be available the first half of the season.

In Lappan's place, senior QB David Cicotte is scheduled to start. He'll have fullbacks James McLeod (senior, 6-1, 230) and Andrew Parks (junior, 6-2, 245), along with running back Darian Mitchell, who has great speed, to help him move the offense.

Sophomore T. J. Dillard, who has no varsity experience but is one of the best sprinters around, also will be in the Wayne backfield.

The offensive line is packed with senior experience from end to end: tight end Michael Rashad, a senior who is 6-4, 185 pounds needs no introduction - he's an all-division caliber player, and Dennis Lee, a senior who is 5-11, 160, enhance Wayne's chances of winning the title.

Then there are center Stephen Petty (senior, 5-10, 230), guards Chris Cox (senior, 5-11, 215) and Mike Porta, junior 5-10, 230; tackles Bernard Evans (senior, 6-0, 240) and Kevin Lindsey (senior, 6-0, 230); and tight end Lance Bessett (senior, 6-3, 230) who provide the experience on the line.

On paper, Wayne also looks tough on defense. They have nose guard Brent Colaianne, a 5-11, 235-pound senior returning to anchor the defense. Colaianne comes from a long line of outstanding athletes. His uncle as well as father were All-Area athletes at Wayne High.

The defensive ends are Lang and Parks, while the down linemen include John McFalls (6-1, 240) who played as a sophomore but didn't report for action a year ago.

Lindsey and Evans will be used on defense as tackles.

The linebacking corps will be led by inside linebacker Cox, who will be flanked by Jimmy Brucker (senior, 5-8, 180) and Jonathan Edwards (5-8, 170). In the Wayne secondary there are Dillard, Maurice Jackson (junior, 5-8, 170) and Kurtis Allen (senior, 5-10, 170).

This may be Wayne's last chance to win a Mega Conference football championship, but it definitely is their best chance to go all the way and also qualify for the playoffs.

Twisters sweat out win No. 4 over Rage

For the first time this season, the Twisters found themselves in a game.

The undefeated Twisters managed to eke out a 28-21 victory over "The Rage" of Battle Creek on Saturday to stretch their winning streak to four in the Lakeshore Semiprofessional Football League.

"They made us sweat for this one," admitted Twister General Manager and CEO Glenn Brothers. "This wasn't like our first three wins."

Brothers called the duel a "game that it was your turn, then my turn to lead right down from the opening whistle."

For the first time this season, the Twisters fell behind in the opening period when Twister QB Rob Elswick lofted a 40-yard pass intended for Reggie Brandon who was open beyond the Rage defender. But the pass came up short and was intercepted and returned to the Twister 37.

In three plays from scrimmage, the Rage put the first and only score of the first quarter on the scoreboard, taking a 7-0 lead.

But the massive defensive line of the Rage could not contain the explosive Twister offense as they came roaring back reaching pay dirt twice in the second period.

The Twisters moved to a 14-7 lead but realized they were in for a game.

On the ensuing kickoff, following the Twisters' second TD, the Rage promptly returned the kick 82 yards for their second TD and made good on the point-after to tie the game at 14.

That's how it stood until early in the third period.

The Twisters pulled ahead when Elswick hooked up with tight end Andy Leighton for a 30-yard game to the Rage 20. Then, Coach Dave Brown changed strategy and went to his running backs to grind out the needed yardage.

Corey Davis and Jason Gibson responded by covering the remaining 20-yards, with Jason's slashing in from two yards out for the Twisters' third TD of the game.

Up now 21-14, the Rage wouldn't let go. The Battle Creek ball club again came back behind the pinpoint passing of their All-American QB, Tim Kubiak, whose TD pass again put the Rage back in the game.

Now, at 21-all, the closing minutes provided a wake-up call for the undefeated Twisters.

The Twister defense rose to the occasion and put pressure on Kubiak.

The Rage executed only 10 plays in the final quarter after its final score. Of these 10, five were pass plays that came under fierce pressure.

Four completely missed targets and an intercepted pass by Twister free safety Deon Perry of Inkster helped to break the deadlock.

Perry returned the ball 34 yards to the Rage 27, setting up the Twisters' decisive TD with eight minutes left.

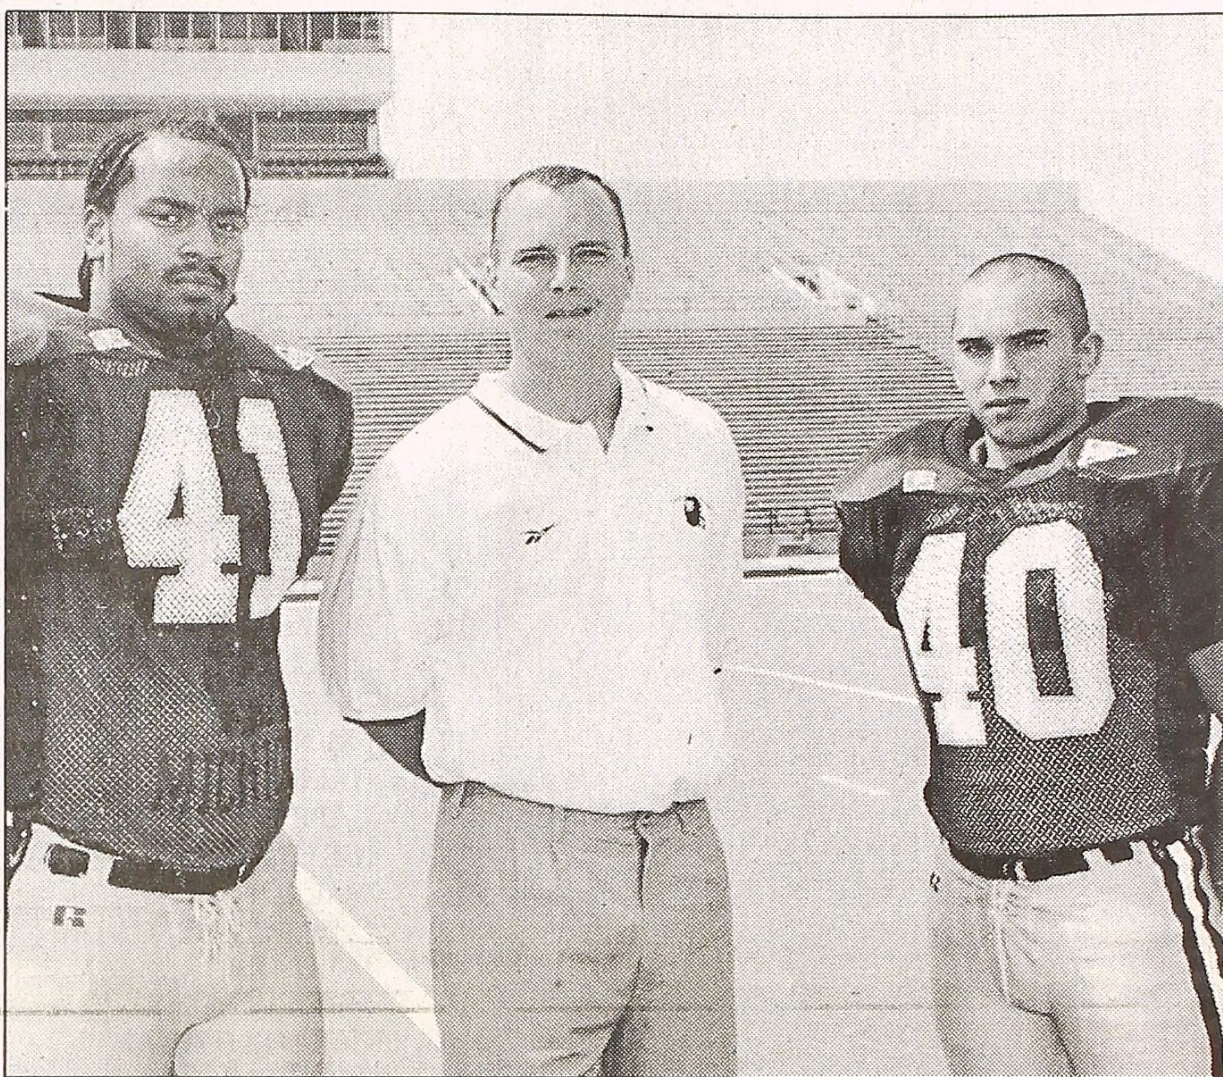

The Rage had its opportunities. They had possession twice in the final minutes, but failed to capitalize and surrendered the ball via turnovers.

"We knew going in this game that the Rage team was fully loaded with great athletes and were a serious threat to our winning streak," said Brothers.

The Twisters will travel to Columbus, Ohio, on Saturday in quest of their fifth successive victory.

The Columbus Lions are the defending Central Division champs.

Incidentally, the Twisters are not scheduled to play over the Labor Day weekend, but will return to the home girdion on Saturday, Sept. 8, when they will entertain the Glass City Grizzlies out of Toledo.

Ebel proves he is able to win Michigan Cup

Ebel is able.

That's what the Michigan Cup Golf Association's high school division found out last week as Grosse Ile product won for the second time in four tries on the Red Tour.

Ebel's one birdie, one bogey par 36 on the front nine was four better than any other golfer in the field and he came in with a four-bogey 40 back nine to shoot 76 and win by five strokes.

The last regular MCJA tournament was held at Riverview Highlands' 6,732-yard, par 36-36-72 layout that most golfers found difficult.

Wayne's Scott Jones finished second with his 42-39-81 and garnered 125 points that placed him second in overall points with 675 points, just 10 shy of winner Chris Dujovski.

Jones took top honors for 12th grade students with his 675 points.

Kyle Przydzial birdied two and seven but six front nine bogeys gave him a 40, and he faltered to a back nine 43 in his third-place finish of 83.

Wayne's Josh Joseph had a roller-coaster round of 47-38-85 to tie for fourth place with David Sheppard (43-42) of Garden City. Joseph had three birds - on 2, 12, and 18 - but two double-bogeys and a triple on the front nine left him 11 over par at the turn.

To his credit, he hung in there with two birdies on the back nine and had the tournament low 38 on the back.

In addition, Joseph earned 115 points in the tournament to finish fifth among all Red Tour players and runner-up among 11th graders with 620 points.

Livonia's Corey Huhn had two birds, on 9 and 18, but triple-bogeys on one and nine ballooned his front nine to 45 and he finished with 41 for his sixth-place spot of 86.

Jeremy Walters (49-49-98) ended in seventh and Kainoa Thomas rounded out the eight-man field with 52-52-104.

This week is the big test for the high school division players as they battle Taylor Meadows links layout in a two-day, 36-hole shootout for the Red Tour Championship.

On the middle school division Blue Tour, Canton's Chris

Sorensen won for the second time in his last three tournaments with a 44-44-88 round that carried him to a three-stroke victory.

After going 3-over on the first hole and notching four double-bogeys, Sorensen parred four of the last six holes on the front nine and birdied 16 to play the final three holes one-under-par.

Derek Moos parred his final four holes in his 50-41-91 runner-up effort.

Canton's Ben Underwood (49-51-100) tied for third place with Plymouth's Tyler Jeleniewski (52-48-100). Underwood's fine effort gave him 85 points to finish second in both the entire Red Tour field and second in the 8th grade.

Plymouth's Zack Smith, a five-time winner on the Blue circuit this season, finished first in the season's Red Tour totals and first among eighth graders with his 840 points.

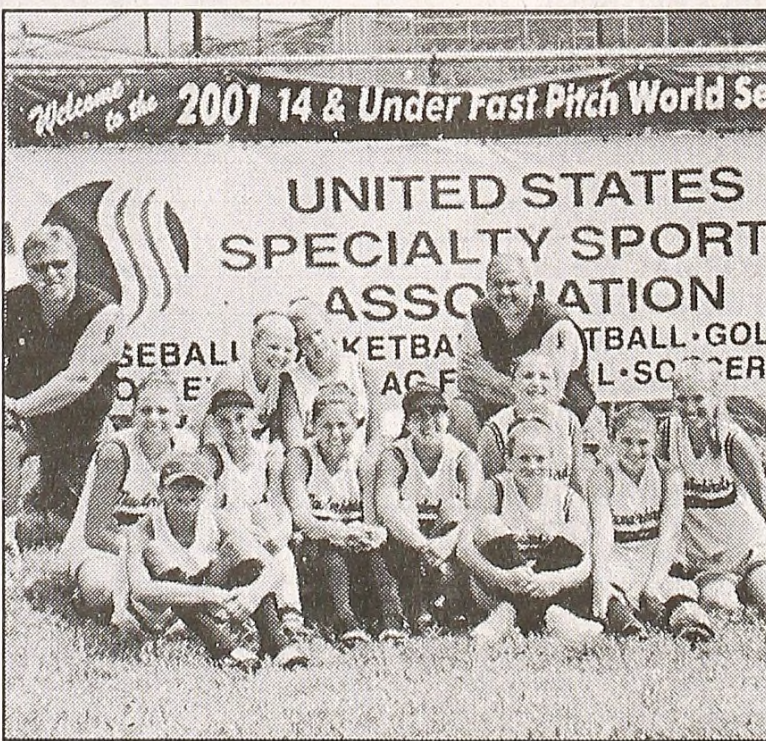

Jeleniewski's 85 points from last week's tourney gave him 515, good for tops among sixth grade golfers and third overall in the Blue Tour standings.

Canton's Ross Gerulis (54-53-107) captured fifth place and his 70 points gave him 475 points, good for runner-up among sixth graders and fourth on the Blue Tour.

Thomas McHenry had 64-57-118 for sixth spot in last week's event.

Canton's Derek Schmitt carded 68-56-124 for his seventh-place.

The Plymouth-Canton T-Birds made their inaugural debut at the World Series staged this year in Kansas City. The T-Birds made an excellent showing at the 80-plus team invitational and managed to win their opener. Although they didn't reach the final cut, the local girls' fastpitch team vowed "that they will be back". They're one of the teams to watch in the area next season.

Canton makes it to World Series

Canton's Thunderbirds got a taste of what it's like to compete in the USSSA's World Series and, though eliminated in their bid for the national title, the ball club liked what it saw and vowed to go back.

The Thunderbirds, a 14 and under girls fast pitch softball club whose lineup includes many Plymouth-Canton athletes, traveled to Kansas City to play in the prestigious World Series.

Only four other Michigan squads - Novi, Garden City, Fenton and Ann Arbor - were also invited to make the trip.

Eighty outstanding teams from across the nation gathered to compete in the excessive heat - temperatures at times reached 100 degrees - and the humidity was unbearable, for the national championship.

Teams represented Washington, California, Florida, and Virginia came to play against the best girls' fastpitch squads in the country.

The T-Birds survived their initial test.

Canton posted an opening tournament victory over a strong St. Louis team, 9-3.

Led by stellar pitcher Keli Szczepanski and outstanding performances from shortstop Emily Maletic, second baseman Courtney Edwards, and left fielder Brittany Cates, the T-Birds managed to come out a winner and establish themselves as one of the teams to watch in the future.

The T-Bird defense was superb and the offense outstanding.

Coming up with timely hits for the T-Birds were Sarah Amann, Valerie Jesse, Tina Sniogowski, and Jackie Perino.

Contributions also came from Lindsay Boudreau and Britnea Auerbach which ensured that each game was to be a close hard fought battle.

In the final game, Lindsey Seager pitched a gem, but lost to a strong Kansas Cyclones' team, 4-1.

The T-Bird coaches, Dan Amann and Frank Szczepanski, said they would like to thank the many great families who have given the team support throughout the summer.

On course

Mike Ebel shows the style that won him his second in four tries tournament on the Red Tour. Ebel has set himself up as one of the top young players in the area and will be shooting to win the Red Tour overall championship when the high school linksters get together to battle on the Taylor Meadows course.

With a ribbon on 685 points, Chris Dujovski (above) wrapped up the Michigan Cup high school division overall point-total title.

Dujovski wins Michigan Cup title Wayne's Jones is tourney runner-up

Wayne's Scott Jones finished runner-up in last week's Michigan Cup high school division Red Tour event at Riverview Highlands with his fine 81 to earn 125 points.

However, the young linkster's 675 overall points fell just 10 shy of catching Chris Dujovski's season-winning total of 685.

Jones improved during the last half of the season and his point total earned him top spot among 12th graders.

Final totals showed Kyle Przydzial in third place in the overall season Red Division point standings with 635, followed by Wayne's Josh Joseph and Jason Adkins tied for fourth with 620.

Canton Township's Nathan Perkovich, who made a late-season run at winning the overall point total crown, finished sixth with 610.

Then came Mike Ebel, 605; Brian Hejka, 595; David Lughermo and Livonia's Steve Robinson tied with 585; Josh Frison, 565; Livonia's Dru Girard, 545, and Joseph Gagnon, 510.

Rounding out the list of top 20 overall Red Tour point-getters are: Phil Liddle, 475; John Wloch, 460; Canton's Brandon Scero, 445; Corey Skiff, 440; Eddie Bellamy, 435; Canton's Kyle Kosmyna, 439, and Nick Kolderman, 425.

Winner of the middle school Blue Tour overall point championship is Zach Smith, who won five tournaments this season and scored an impressive 840 points.

Canton's Ben Underwood won one tourney and finished with 520 points in second place, followed by Canton's Tyler Jeleniewski (a one-time winner) with 515 in third. Canton's Ross Gerulis, also a one tournament winner, finished with 475 and in fourth place, while Derek Moos was fifth with 415.

Rounding out the top 17 Blue Tour season point-getters are: Canton's Derek Schmitt, 375; Canton's Chris Sorensen, 370; Belleville's Chris Duffy, 355; Matt Robinson, 355; Sean VanLoozen, 340; Canton's Ty Staber, 325; Plymouth's Nick Taggie, 325; Belleville's Mark Davenport, 235; Thomas McHenry, 130; Canton's Nick Forsman, 90; Alexandra Height and Belleville's Kyle Sanders, 60 points.

Many area golfers won honors as The Michigan Cup named point-leaders in individual grades.

Wayne's Scott Jones was the 12th grade winner with 675; Kyle Przydzial was second with 635, and Canton's Kyle Kosmyna, third with 430.

The top 11th grader was Chris Dujovski with 685, followed by Wayne's Josh Joseph, 620 and Mike Ebel was third with 605.

Leading 19th grader was Jason Adkins, 620. Canton's Nathan Perkovich was second with 610 and David Lughermo was third with 585.

John Wloch led all 9th graders with 460, then it was Corey Skiff, with 440, followed by Jon Ebel, in third (385).

Top 8th graders was Plymouth's Zach Smith, 840; Canton's Ben Underwood was second with 520, followed by Canton's Derek Schmitt, 375, and Canton's Chris Sorensen, 370.

Seventh-grade winner was Canton's Ty Staber with 325 points.

Winning honors in the 6th grade went to Tyler Jeleniewski, with 515, followed by Canton's Ross Gerulis who had 475, and Derek Moos finished with 415.

Softball registration continues

Romulus Parks and Recreation officials announced this week that they will continue to accept team registration for their fall softball leagues until Aug. 31.

All registration and fees must be submitted to the recreation office on or before 5 p.m. on Aug. 31 in order for a team to qualify to play in the fall league.

There will be a manager's meeting at 7 p.m. on Sept. 4 to discuss rules and regulations, while league action will begin on Sept. 7.

Recreation officials say they play to field a six-team Friday Men's Division; Sunday Men's Division and a Tuesday Co-Ed Division. The Friday and Sunday Leagues will be limited to six home runs.

There is a $300 registration fee to play in the Tuesday Co-Ed Division, while the fee for the Friday and Sunday Divisions are $325.

For further information please contact Keith Brothers at the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department. The number is 313-941-6040.

Ladies are playing it cool on course

As the hot and humid summer surrenders to the cool breezes of fall, the competitors in the Ladies Suburban Golf League turn their thoughts to tournament play and championships.

Tournament competition will bring the curtains down on the 2001 season in a couple of weeks.

In the meantime, Livonia's Ginny Karolak surfaced with a two-stroke victory over a pair of rivals - Nancy Wilkie and Becky Anderson - to walk into the clubhouse with medalist honors at Ironwood Golf Course.

Karolak's 72 stood up as the best Low Net score in the First Flight.

Over in the Low Gross players, it was Jan Antieau in a runaway. Antieau posted an 83, which was a six-stroke margin of victory over her closest competitor, Wayne's Terry Deisler.

Southfield's Jeannette Isenhour toured the course with a 72 to beat out Wayne's Pat Henke, who had a 73, for top honors in the Low Net division of the second flight.

Gwen Wyer came through with a 98 to finish atop of the field which included runners-up Penny Irwin and Mary Allen, both of Wayne, who carded 100.

In the race for the Third Flight, Low Net accolades this week, Westland's Mary Cunningham and Pat Ochs of Howell were co-medalists as each finished with 73s. The runners-up spot also had a logjam as Pat Wilson and Gloria Hudson finished with 80s.

Jan Nelson's 102 beat out Toni Trent by three strokes in the duel for the Third Flight, Low Gross first-place honors.
